Forever float that standard sheet—
Where breathes the foe but falls before us?
With Freedom's soil beneath our feet,
And Freedom's banner streaming o'er us!

Adjutant Gen. Thomas at a New Mission.

The speech of Adj. Gen. Thomas at Cairo, yesterday, will be received with some surprise by the country. About eighteen months since he visited the west for the purpose of finding some excuse for the misdeeds of Gen. Fremont, because the latter had proclaimed the freedom of the slaves of rebels, as a war measure calculated to weaken the enemy. Thomas was at that time so pro-slavery in his feelings that he was suspected of dilatory, and entered upon the crusade against Fremont with the greatest avidity and zeal. It is singular that he is now made the instrument of promulgating the Fremont doctrine anew to the people of the west. He says it is now the policy of the government to deprive the enemy of laboring men, and to organize the freed slaves into companies and regiments, and to put them to their proper use in quelling the rebellion. He declares, moreover, that these negroes must be treated kindly, and that he is vested with authority to dismiss all officers who do otherwise!

It cannot be denied, after this, that the world moves, and that the government progresses, though somewhat slowly. Whether Gen. Thomas takes to this business as a labor of love, or as a matter of duty, we cannot say, but he talks as if he were in good earnest. We trust he is so, and we presume he is used as the medium of announcing the new policy in the southwest, because of his pro-slavery proclivities. Who knows but he may become a veritable St. Paul in his zeal as a new convert to the doctrines of the despised abolitionists?

The use which is now proposed to be made of the negro along the Mississippi river, will be hailed with satisfaction by the southern, but not by the northern, healthy region, and the black man, fully acclimated, will take his place. Thus will the lives of our friends be saved, and at the same time the most potent instrument, the freed slave, will at last be put to his proper work—the suppression of the slaveholders' rebellion.

Legislative Proceedings.

MONDAY, March 30.
Senate.—The following bills, among others, were passed: For the publication of 8000 copies of the revised school code. For enrolling persons liable to military duty and to organize the state militia for active service—ayes 20, nays 7. The latter were Messrs. Bohan, Clark, Hicks, Hudd, Pratt, Thomas and Wilson—all democrats. Appropriating $2000 to J. H. Hunt for damages sustained by him in the Ozaque draft riot. Concerning proceedings in court in certain cases—a farm mortgage bill—ayes 17, nays 10.

Assembly.—After opposition from Mr. Sanborn and support from Mr. Sharpsteen, the assembly went into committee of the whole on the militia bill from the senate.

POSITION OF JUDGE COITEN.—The Mineral Point Tribune, printed at the home of Judge Coitren, and where his real sentiments are likely to be most freely expressed and best known, says:

"Judge Coitren is the candidate of the most ultra portion of the democratic party, who are opposed to the war, and favor the cessation of hostilities on the part of the north, even while the rebels are in arms against the government. He believes the rebels cannot be conquered, and is in favor of the peace measures commended by the rabid copperheads of the Illinois and Indiana legislatures. If he has done or said anything to encourage enlistments or to encourage our brave men now in the field to fight for the preservation of the Union, it has never come to our knowledge."

THE DETROIT RIOTERS.—The examination of the Detroit rioters has been finished. From 20 to 25 were arrested, eight of whom have been discharged, and the remainder held to answer in $1,000 each. Among those held was Timothy Drummond, the deaf and dumb boy, whom we have mentioned before, as one of the most active of the rioters.

The secretary of war has issued an order allowing Governor Nye to take to Nevada, which borders on Utah, a thousand stand of arms, three howitzers, and a large number of cavalry equipments.

Fernando Wood made a speech in Missouri Hall, New York, a few days ago, before the peace democrats, in which he took ground against the loyal leagues on account of their name. Says Fernando: "Loyalty is a monarchical derivation. It is a European extract. No loyalty for me—I know no such word."

Hon. Arthur McArthur, judge of the 2d judicial circuit, has been nominated for re-election by the democrats. There will probably be no opposition to him.

OFFICE OF THE MOBILE OF THE YAZOO PASS.

ENTRONS GAZETTE.—We are waiting here for small steamers to take us through the pass. We are entirely surrounded by water, encamped on a sand bar. Six inches more of water will compel us to go on transports. Quimby's division is embarking to day; one brigade has gone through the pass. Several small steamers are here, I think enough to take General Quimby's troops off. I understand they sent eighty sick up the river from that division, to-day, and several have died since they came here. There must be much sickness in this army, for the location of the camps are such as would lead to much sickness. Several steamers have come out of the pass, to-day, with one man, but what the news is from the fleet I cannot say at present, the general opinion is that we have met with some very heavy batteries on the streams leading to the Yazoo river, and will be unable to pass them until a heavy land force get in the rear to co-operate with the gunboats. We hear that the rebels have guns mounted on the streams that throw shot as long as a lamp post! I cannot say that all feel confident of the success of the expedition. It is rather a hazardous undertaking from what I hear, and by the appearance of the boats that come out from the pass I should think they had been badly used; nearly all their outer works are completely torn off, from the thumps they receive in coming in contact with floating and stationary trees, &c.

I arrived here on Friday. Alex. Paul, a member of company G, died at German-town, Tenn., the morning the regiment left that place. George Jole is in the hospital at Memphis. All the rest of the men are here well, except Norman Davis, he being somewhat unwell. The battery is on board of the boat, and will start from here soon. I tried to visit them, to-day, but the water would not permit me to go to their place of embarkation. I saw Lieut. Harlow on Friday, he said the men were in good health generally. Our regiment is very healthy at present. We have an effective force, to-day, of 492 enlisted men and 32 commissioned officers; aggregate 524. That is better by far than regiments of 19 months service will average.

The weather is very warm—the trees are getting very green, and fruit trees are in full bloom. The men have procured dug-outs and small boats, and go miles back from the camp, and find nothing but a sea of water. We are well cared for at present. We have new tents, and the men have got new oil-cloth blankets. They are a great protection from the damp ground. All are well clothed, and as well provided for as at any time since we entered the service, and I hope the next time you hear from us we may tell you that the Mississippi is open from St. Paul to the Balise. We trust that we have friends enough yet at home to drive the contemptible sneaks and traitors, who are in your midst aiding the more honorable rebels in the south to destroy the most beneficent government on earth—I say drive them to a hiding place, so that when this war ends they will be ashamed to show their copperheads to any man now in the army. There will be no rest for the wicked when the men who are now engaged in trying to save the nation get home again. The soldiers will remember them. They are doomed forever hereafter. No office of trust will be given them, for we will all vote when we get home, and whoever we all vote for will be successful. But I must close. My best wishes to all friends of the government. Hoping soon to have an honorable peace, I am yours, with much respect,

W. B. BRITTON,

How to Take Vicksburg.
JACKSON, Tenn., March 23.
Editor of the Chicago Tribune:

I heard a distinguished officer of this department remark this morning that "if he had 80,000 of your northern rebel demagogues, brigaded and down here, to take Vicksburg inside of ten days, or lose every man in the attempt, and he wouldn't care a damn."

Now, sir, we soldiers approve of that remark, without need to reply.

Respectfully yours,

Last Night's Report.

WASHINGTON, March 29.

Special to the Chicago Tribune.—The following dispatch from General Saxton, forms the most important contribution yet made for the solution of the problem of the rebellion. It should be remembered that General Saxton is a thorough military man, not originally exempt from the prejudices of other officers of the army, and that it is only as a military man that he bears this testimony to the triumphant success of the policy of arming escaped slaves:

BEAUFORT, March 14th, 1863.

To Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War:

Sir:—I have the honor to report that the expedition which I sent up the St. John's river, Florida, consisting of the First Regiment of South Carolina Volunteers, Col. Higginson commanding, and a portion of the 2d South Carolina Volunteers, under Col. Montgomery, captured and took possession of the town of Jacksonville on Tuesday, the 11th inst. The object of the expedition was to occupy Jacksonville, and make it the base of operations for the arming of the negroes, and securing in this way possession of the entire state of Florida. It gives me pleasure to report that so far, the objects of the expedition have been fully accomplished. The town is completely in our possession, and many prisoners.

There has been constant skirmishing going on for several days, and in every action the negro troops have behaved with the utmost bravery. Never in a single instance can I learn that they have flinched. It is my belief that scarcely an incident in this war has caused a greater panic throughout the southern coast than this raid of the colored troops in Florida. The negroes are collecting at Jacksonville from all quarters.

I am, sir, with great respect,

(Signed)

BRAXTON,
Brig. Gen. Volunteers.

MEMPHIS, Mar. 27, via Cairo 23.

Special to Chicago Tribune.—The news is rather important. The steamer Kenton had arrived at Memphis from below, bringing later advices from the fleet. It came certainly that the expedition down Deer Creek, Snodgrass, Steele's Bayou, &c., had arrived safely at its destination, and that a very large force under Gen. W. T. Sherman had landed above Helena's bluff. No action had occurred. News of a cheering character is expected. It is thought, generally, that Vicksburg must soon succumb. There was a rumor in Memphis and Helena that the rebels were actively evacuating, but it is untrue. They intend to fight, or at least to hold their position as long as they can.

Nothing more is heard of the Yazoo Pass expedition. Informants tell different stories regarding the late movements there. One is that our forces had withdrawn entirely. Another, that, having been reinforced by Gen. Quimby's troops, they have returned and will renew the attack upon Greenwood. The latter is probable.

A raid into Austin, Ark., 40 miles above Helena a few days ago, found nothing to capture, but cut the levees which flooded the country, and then returned. The Mississippi at Helena is falling rapidly. It is said that 7,000 federal troops landed at Greenwood, unable to get on transports by reason of the flooding of the country, are attempting to make their way north by land, and that Chalmers, the rebel commander, is mustering a large force to prevent such a movement. This purports to be two days later news than that by the Yazoo Pass cut. It needs confirmation.

The water is still pouring through Lake Providence canal. News from there is still good. The health of the troops is still good. The anticipated stirring times, and success over the enemy.

By the arrival of the steamer Alvin Dean we have Memphis advices to the evening of the 25th. The new trade regulations of Secretary Chase are being rigidly enforced at Memphis, as well as at Cairo.

An officer per the steamer Continental, from the fleet last Sunday, says that on Saturday afternoon Farragut's steamers Hartford and Tuscarora came up, and when opposite Warrenton opened fire on the batteries, but did not drive off the rebel artillery men. After passing Warrenton, and taking a general survey of the position, they turned and went back with the same ease with which they came up. Neither relieved the slightest damage, although the rebels kept up a continuous firing during the passage.

On Saturday evening the gunboat Lafayette took a coal barge down the river and on its way leaving the fleet to go to Farragut's fleet. The scene was watched by the federal from the steamer Fannie Ogden. The rebel batteries were within range and opened upon the barge successfully. She passed unharmed beyond Vicksburg toward her Warrenton destination.

WASHINGTON, March 30.

Admiral Dupont, in a dispatch to the navy department, dated March 21st, attaches much importance to the destruction of the English iron steamer Georgiana, which he says was brought over by a retired British officer, intended for the confederate navy, and was to be officered in Charleston. She attempted to run the blockade on the night of the 18th. She was discovered, run ashore and destroyed by our guns.

The navy department has not received confirmatory dispatches of the late Cairo report that an iron-clad and 15,000 men had passed through the Vicksburg cut-off, and that Fort Greenwood had been surprised.

New York, March 30.

A Hilton Head letter to the Philadelphia Press gives a description of the torpedo-retrievers invented by Ericsson, for which the expedition against Charleston has been delayed.

The monitors to be engaged are the Passaic, Potomac, Weehawken, Nahant, Catskill, Nantuxet, Montauk and Keokuk, and also the frigates Ironsides.

A Fortress Monroe letter of the 28th reports the safe arrival of the iron-clad Kearsarge at Fort Royal. It also states that an extensive fire at Richmond, two weeks since, destroyed nearly 100,000 bushels of corn.

James River is being strongly fortified by the rebels. Fort Powhatan is being casemated with railroad iron. The rebel force between the Blackwater and Richmond is nearly 30,000.

All is quiet at Suffolk.

WASHINGTON, March 29.

Special dispatch to the Chicago Times.—Richmond papers of yesterday's date contain a full description of the loss of the rebel steamer Georgiana off Charleston harbor. She was a powerful steamer of 407 tons, 150 horse power very fast, and persons who saw her at Nassau, which port she stopped at prior to sailing for Charleston, reported her as a much more formidable vessel than the Alabama. She was built by Laird, of Birkenhead, for the Emperor of China, as alleged, was a iron vessel, brig-rigged, and left England with an assorted cargo. It is estimated that the vessel, with her cargo, must have been worth a million of dollars. Richmond papers state that among the cargo was a battery of twelve 32-pound guns, of superior manufacture.

The state department gives full authority for continuing the statement in a French journal, published in New York, that a reply has been received from the Emperor to Seward's dispatch declining the proffered intervention.

Gov. Curtin returned from the army to-night. He will return next week, to review the remainder of the Pennsylvania regiments. The storm prevented its continuance to-day. He represents the army as being in an excellent condition.

The President has issued his proclamation ordering public sales of government lands in the territory of Washington and the states of Michigan and Kansas.

The latest information from our immediate front states the prevalence of the belief that the rebels have a considerable infantry force, under Jackson, now in the vicinity of Front Royal, designing another raid in this direction.

Memphis, March 29.

Col. Lowe telegraphed from Fort Donelson to a partner Lieut. Smith, 6th Iowa cavalry, has just brought from Wells' creek, fourteen prisoners, 18 horses and mules, and a lot of butter.

TOLSON, March 29.

The New York and Erie Railway Company's steamers New York and Oswego—the former from Dunkirk, the latter from Cleveland—arrived here to-day. They are the first boats this season.

Fortress Monroe, March 28.

Last Sabbath, several clergymen of Norfolk gave notice that the churches would be open on Friday for service, in conformity with Jeff. Davis' proclamation. The churches were opened; but, as the worshippers began to congregate, they found a guard of Union soldiers at the church doors, and no services were allowed.

A Richmond paper says that Judge Meredith, of the rebel circuit court, has decided that every citizen of Maryland, and every foreigner who ever enlisted in the rebel army, no matter how short a time, acquired a domicile, and was, therefore, liable to conscription, if between 18 and 45 years of age.

The hull and machinery of the Pennsylvania, burned three years ago on the James river, have been raised, and passed here last evening for Baltimore.

Col. Ludlow, commissioner for the exchange of prisoners, has concluded an arrangement with the rebel Commissioner Ould for the exchange of all U. S. officers held by the rebel government.

A steamer left Fortress Monroe to-day for City Point, taking for exchange 280 prisoners of war, including 16 officers and 22 citizen prisoners.

An officer who deserted from the rebel ranks arrived at Norfolk yesterday. He reports that the rebels are evacuating Richmond as fast as possible. The report is not fully credited.

Orders were issued by Gen. Vele yesterday, closing the theaters in Norfolk for the present, and allowing no one on the streets after 7 o'clock at night. It is supposed that this restriction was caused by the attempt made there the night before, to fire the quartermaster storehouses in the city of Norfolk. The incendiaries, three in number, made their escape, leaving their infernal machine behind.

The steamer Spaulding, from Hilton Head on Thursday, arrived here to-day. She reports the steamer Expounder destroyed by the rebels, and that no im-

MORNING DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, March 30.

Tribune's special.—Some of Gen. Dix's officers report that they are satisfied from various circumstances that the rebels are preparing for the evacuation of Richmond, and have already moved large quantities of supplies. These officers believe that the show of force in front of Hooker, and the demonstrations by cavalry in front of Washington and on the Peninsula, are intended to mask the real object; that the bulk of Lee's army is moving away behind a curtain of forts to the west, with the intent to concentrate in front of Rosecrans in hopes of being able to drive him back and occupy and hold Kentucky. Their opinions are not shared by the principal officers of the army of the Potomac.

Gen. Hooker was here, to-day, in consultation with the president, secretary of war and Gen. Halleck. He returned tonight.

No dispatch yet received at the state department from the French government in response to Secretary Seward's dispatch declining Napoleon's proposal to mediate.

New York, March 31.

An attack by a very strong, was made yesterday on our cavalry by patrol, on the telegraph road between Damies and Ocoquin. Eight of our men were captured.

An expedition from Hooker's army, under Col. Fairchild, which was sent out recently to Northern Neck, returned to Belle Plain yesterday. They captured several prisoners and a quantity of pork, bacon, wheat and oats, and also a number of valuable horses and mules, and broke up the ferries at the Union wharf, and the Rappahannock. Col. Fairchild also burned a schooner engaged in smuggling contraband goods into Virginia.

All quiet on the Rappahannock. The enemy is evidently still in his old camps, though an impression prevails that Lee is preparing to fall back beyond the Pamunkey.

Special to World.—The work in consolidating demoted regiments has been completed in the army of the Rappahannock.

New York, March 31.

Col. Clark, of Bank's staff, died of his injuries received at the battle of Haddon. A letter from aboard the Richmond says the report is untrue that she fired into the Mississippi.

A Hilton Head letter says that Bonaparte, through a flag of truce, had the impudence to demand the surrender of the steamer S. Mercedes and Key Stone State, which he says were captured on the 31st of January.

The rebel steamer Autanapa, from Nassau, ran the blockade of Charleston. News from Savannah up to 24th stated the people are suffering all kinds of privations, even the sick have only bacon and corn bread for nourishment. All who are able are at work on the fortifications.

A steamer from Jacksonville reported the arrival of the 6th Connecticut and 8th Maine regiments, to reinforce the negro troops. The rebel force had been driven from their original position five or six miles by the darkies. Skirmishings were frequent. Three regiments of Georgians were known to be marching on the town, and heavy firing was heard as the steamers left.

LEXINGTON, March 30.

Special to Chicago Tribune.—The Union men of Kentucky are expected to contribute towards the defence of this state, and we do not think it becomes them to endeavor to have their negroes released from the labor necessary for the defence of this city. Neutrals and secession sympathizers may think themselves fortunate if they themselves are not forced to work in the trenches. Men who will not defend their country, or who sympathize with those who will to destroy it, have no rights which we are bound to respect. By command of A. S. GILBERT, Col. Comdg Post.

CAIRO, March 30.

Special to Chicago Tribune.—General Thomas will visit all the posts in General Grant's command. The camp of rendezvous for contrabands now at this point, by order of Gen. Hurlbut, will be soon moved to Island No. 10, where every provision will be made for their comfort, and profitable employment furnished by the government in tilling deserted farms. Gen. Thomas, after reviewing the troops, made the rounds of the forts, barracks, quarters, negro quarters and hospitals, and inspected each carefully. The capital was reported to be in excellent condition.

CAIRO, March 30.

No boats have arrived from below. Adjutant Gen. S. Thomas, to-day, in company with Gen. Buford and staff, witnessed a parade of the 25th Iowa, commanded by Col. Hill, and afterwards reviewed the troops. The exhibition was creditable to the 35th. After parade Gen. Thomas made a speech, in which he took occasion to reveal a portion of his business in the southwest. He alluded to the matter of receiving colored men into the lines and reprimanded the manner in which some of them had been treated, instancing cases where they had been sent back into slavery. It was the duty, he said, of every officer to receive and treat kindly the slaves who should come within our lines, and any known to do otherwise he would himself, by authority in him vested, discharge them from the army.

It was the policy of the government to deprive the rebels of laboring men. As such received let them be organized into companies. He was authorized to form into regiments all suitable men and place white officers over them, and put them to proper use in quelling the rebellion.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

No report at the time we go to press.

FEARFUL CALAMITY.—On Friday morning last, about two o'clock, the house of Mr. Geo. Tollard, living in the town of York, Dane county, near the Madison road, about five miles from this place, took fire and burned to the ground, and three persons who slept in the second story were burned to death, and another one so badly burned that death may yet ensue from it. Mrs. Tollard, who slept in the first story, was the first one to discover the fire and give the alarm, and was the only one in the house who escaped uninjured, and she only escaped by breaking out her bedroom window and escaping from the house. A son of Mr. Tollard escaped by jumping from a second story window. One woman with an infant child, who was in the house on a visit, escaped by following Mrs. Tollard through her bedroom and out through the window where Mrs. Tollard escaped. She came down with nothing on but her night dress, and although severely burned, she walked barefooted over the frozen ground, half a mile, carrying her child to a neighbor's house. Of those who perished in the flames two were grown females related to the family, we believe, the other was an adopted son of Mr. Tollard. The house was a frame building, and stood on an eminence and in that heavy gale during the night the fire burned with fearful rapidity. Nothing was saved from the house. Of the origin of the fire nothing is known for certain. Mr. Tollard was in Columbus in the evening in attendance on a religious meeting, and in consequence of the heavy gale did not go home that night, and knew not what awaited him until he came in sight the next morning of what was once his home.

Since the above has been put in type we learn from the physician, Dr. Baril, that the two females who perished in the flames, were nieces to Mr. Tollard. The young woman who escaped with her child is Mr. Tollard's daughter, and who made her father's house her home. The adopted son of Mr. Tollard was a lad about nine years old. From appearances after the fire, as we have learned from Mr. Tollard himself, was that those who perished had not left their beds. Mr. Tollard's son did not jump from the second story window, but broke through a window in the lower story and made his escape.

A niece of Mr. Tollard's who escaped from the flames with her life, was so badly burned that it is thought that she will lose one of her arms or at least the use of it.—Columbian Journal, 25th.

A JOKE ON THE LAWYERS.—Some of the lawyers in the assembly in this state have done quite as much talking this winter as has been agreeable to the rest of the members, and as a rebuke to that class, Mr. Hanson, of Wisconsin, introduced the following:

A bill to prevent lawyers from swamping the state. Introduced by Mr. Hanson. Read first and second times, and referred to Committee on Swamp and Overwood Lands, consisting of Messrs. Barron and Bingham.

The people of the State of Wisconsin, represented in the Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Sec. 1. No person shall be eligible to the legislature of this state (whose business it is to practice as an attorney before any court in this state), unless such person shall before he is elected, execute to the treasurer of this state a bond, with one or more sureties, to be approved by the governor, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, conditional upon the promise that he will not talk during the session of the legislature for which he is elected, when he has nothing to say, and a majority of the members wish him to dry up.

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect as soon as passed.

An old maid in Cologne was recently buried, and her funeral was attended by an immense number of people. On inquiry to person of whom no one had ever before heard; it was found that she had never been married, and that she had been a widow for a long time.

Too MANY WINDOWS.—A late French medical writer upon the eyes and the influence of domestic architecture upon the organs of sight, speaks of the early defectiveness of which many Americans, which he thinks is due to their custom of constructing their dwellings with twice as many windows as are necessary. In Europe, with its comparatively dim atmosphere, they do not provide half as many windows as they do in America.

A Dr. Joseph Fisher, who recently died at Koenigsberg, Germany, left a thousand florins to a favorite cat and canary bird, and another thousand to his dog. The interest of the whole is to be received by an old servant, charged with keeping the animals. As soon as they die the money lapses to the doctor's rightful heir.

There is a soldier on Governor's Island, now in close custody, who is known to have enlisted ten times, and to have received seven bounties.

The New York Times is exporting 13,000 reams of paper from Belgium, which will cost, with duty and exchange, about 15 cents a pound.

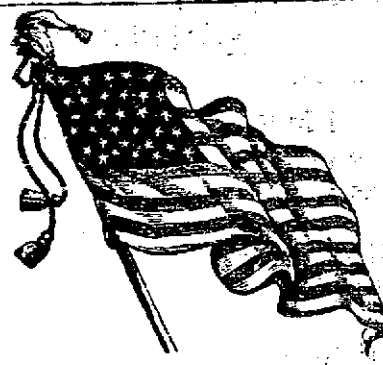

HENRY CLAY.—But if, unhappily, we should be involved in war, in civil war, between the two parts of this confederacy, in which the effort upon the one side should be to restrain the introduction of slavery into the new territories, and upon the other side to force its introduction there, what a spectacle should we present to the astonishment of mankind, in an effort, not to propagate rights, but (I must say it, though I trust it will be understood to be said with no design to excite feeling) a war to propagate slavery, in the territories, thus acquired! It would be a war in which we should have no sympathies, no good wishes; in which all mankind would be against us; in which our own history itself would be against us; for from the commencement of the revolution down to the present time, we have constantly reproached our British ancestors for the introduction of slavery into this country.—Henry Clay.

Adjutant Gen. Thomas on a New Mission.

The speech of Adj. Gen. Thomas at Cairo, yesterday, will be received with some surprise by the country. About eighteen months since he visited the west for the purpose of finding some excuse for the delay of the army, because the latter had proclaimed the freedom of the slaves of rebels, as a war measure calculated to weaken the enemy. Thomas was at that time so pro-slavery in his feelings that he was suspected of disloyalty, and entered upon the crusade against Fremont with the greatest avidity and zeal. It is singular that he is now made the instrument of promulgating the Fremont doctrine anew to the people of the west. He says it is now the policy of the government, to deprive the enemy of laboring men, and to organize the freed slaves into companies and regiments, and to put them to their proper use in quelling the rebellion. He declares, moreover, that these negroes must be treated kindly, and that he is vested with authority to dismiss all officers who do otherwise!

It cannot be denied, after this, that the world moves, and that the government progresses, though somewhat slowly. Whether Gen. Thomas takes to this business as a labor of love, or as a matter of duty, we cannot say, but he talks as if he were in good earnest. We trust he is so, and we presume he is used as the medium of announcing the new policy in the south-west, because of his pro-slavery propensities. Who knows but he may become a veritable St. Paul in his zeal as a new convert to the doctrines of the despised abolitionists?

The use which is now proposed to be made of the negro along the Mississippi river, will be hailed with satisfaction by the healthy region, and the black man, fully acclimated, will take his place. Thus will the lives of our friends be saved, and at the same time the most potent instrument, the freed slave, will at last be put to his proper work—the suppression of the slaveholders' rebellion.

Legislative Proceedings.

MONDAY, March 30.

Senate.—The following bills, among others, were passed: For the publication of 8000 copies of the revised school code. For enrolling persons liable to military duty and to organize the state militia for active service—ayes 20, nays 7. The latter were Messrs. Bonar, Clark, Hicks, Hudd, Pratt, Thomas and Wilson—all democrats. Appropriating $2000 to J. H. Hunt for damages sustained by him in the Ozaucuek draft riot. Concerning proceedings in court in certain cases—a farm mortgage bill—ayes 17, nays 10.

Assembly.—After opposition from Mr. Sanborn and support from Mr. Sharpsteen, the assembly went into committee of the whole on the militia bill from the senate.

Position of Judge Cothren.—The Mineral Point Tribune, printed at the home of Judge Cothren, and where his real sentiments are likely to be most freely expressed and best known, says:

"Judge Cothren is the candidate of the most ultra portion of the democratic party, who are opposed to the war, and favor the cessation of hostilities on the part of the north, even while the rebels are in arms against the government. He believes the rebels cannot be conquered, and is in favor of the peace measures commended by the rapid copperheads of the Illinois and Indiana legislatures. If he has done or said anything to encourage enlistments or to encourage our brave men now in the field to fight for the preservation of the Union, it has never come to our knowledge."

THE DETROIT RIOTERS.—The examination of the Detroit rioters has been finished. From 20 to 25 were arrested, eight of whom have been discharged, and the remainder held to answer in $1,000 each. Among those held was Timothy Drummond, the deaf and dumb boy, whom we have mentioned before, as one of the most active of the rioters.

The secretary of war has issued an order allowing Governor Nye to take to Nevada, which borders on Utah, a thousand stand of arms, three howitzers, and a large number of cavalry accoutrements.

Fernando Wood made a speech in Mozart Hall, New York, a few days ago, before the peace democrats, in which he took ground against the loyal leagues on account of their name. Says Fernando: "Loyalty is a monarchical derivation. It is a European extract. No loyalty for me—I know no such word."

Col. A. C. Harding, of the 83d Illinois infantry, who so gallantly defended Fort Donelson against a greatly superior force, was appointed by the President and confirmed by the senate, a Brigadier General.

Hon. Arthur McArthur, judge of the 2d judicial circuit, has been nominated for re-election by the democrats. There will probably be no opposition to him.

EDITORIAL GAZETTE.—We are waiting here for small steamers to take us, through the pass. We are entirely surrounded by water, encamped on a sand bar. Six inches more of water will compel us to go on transports. Quimby's division is embarking to-day; one brigade has gone through the pass. Several small steamers are here, I think enough to take General Quimby's troops off. I understand they sent eighty sick up the river from that division, to-day, and several have died since they came here. There must be much sickness in this army, for the location of the camps are such as would lead to much sickness. Several steamers have come out of the pass, to-day, with one ram, but what the news is from the fleet I cannot say at present, the general opinion is that we have met with some very heavy batteries on the streams leading to the Yazoo river, and will be unable to pass them until a heavy land force gets in the rear to co-operate with the gunboats. We hear that the rebels have guns mounted on the streams that throw shot as long as a lamp post! I cannot say that all feel confident of the success of the expedition. It is rather a hazardous undertaking from what I hear, and by the appearance of the boats that come out from the pass I should think they had been badly used; nearly all their outer works are completely torn off, from the thumps they receive in coming in contact with floating and stationary trees, &c.

I arrived here on Friday. Alex. Paul, a member of company G, died at Germantown, Tenn., the morning the regiment left that place. George Jole is in the hospital at Memphis. All the rest of the men are here well, except Norman Davis, he being somewhat unwell. The battery is on board of the boat, and will start from here soon. I tried to visit them, to-day, but the water would not permit me to go to their place of embarkation. I saw Lieut. Harlow on Friday, he said the men were in good health generally. Our regiment is very healthy at present. We have an effective force, to-day, of 492 enlisted men and 32 commissioned officers; aggregate 524. That is better by far than regiments of 19 months service will average.

The weather is very warm—the trees are getting very green, and fruit trees are in full bloom. The men have procured duck-outs and small boats, and go miles back from the camp, and find nothing but a sea of water. We are well cared for at present. We have new tents, and the men have got new oil-cloth blankets. They are a great protection from the damp ground. All are well clothed, and as well provided for as at any time since we entered the service, and I hope the next time you hear from us we may tell you that the Mississippi is open from St. Paul to the Balize. We trust that we have friends enough yet at home to drive the contemptible sneaks and traitors, who are in your midst aiding the more honorable rebels in the south to destroy the most beneficent government on earth—I say drive them to a hiding place, so that when this war ends they will be ashamed to show their copperness to any man now in the army. There will be no rest for the wicked when the men who are now engaged in trying to save the nation get home again. The soldiers will remember them. They are doomed forever hereafter. No office of trust will be given them, for we will all vote when we get home, and whoever we all vote for will be successful. But I must close. My best wishes to all friends of the government.—Hoping soon to have an honorable peace, I am yours, with much respect,

How to Take Vicksburg.

JACKSON, Tenn., March 23.
Editorial Chicago Tribune:
I heard a distinguished officer of this department remark this morning that "if he had 80,000 of your northern rebel democrats, brigaded and down here, he would take Vicksburg inside of ten days, or lose every man in the attempt, and he wouldn't care a damn which."

Last Night's Report.

WASHINGTON, March 29.

Special to the Chicago Tribune.—The following dispatch from General Saxton, forms the most important contribution yet made for the solution of the problem of the rebellion. It should be remembered that General Saxton is a thorough military man, not originally exempt from the prejudices of other officers of the army, and that it is only as a military man that he bears this testimony to the triumphant success of the policy of arming escaped slaves.

BEAUFORT, March 14th, 1863.

To Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War.

Sir:—I have the honor to report that the expedition which I sent up the St. John's river, Florida, consisting of the First Regiment of South Carolina Volunteers, Col. Higginson commanding, and a portion of the 2d South Carolina Volunteers, under Col. Montgomery, captured and took possession of the town of Jacksonville, on Tuesday, the 10th inst. As I stated in my last report to you, the object of the expedition was to occupy Jacksonville, and make it the base of operations for the arming of the negroes, and securing in this way possession of the entire state of Florida. It gives me pleasure to report that so far, the objects of the expedition have been fully accomplished. The town is completely in our possession, and many prisoners.

There has been constant skirmishing going on for several days, and in every action the negro troops have behaved with the utmost bravery. Never a single instance of cowardice has been noticed. It is a belief that scarcely an incident in this war has caused a greater panic throughout the southern coast than this raid of the colored troops in Florida. The negroes are collecting at Jacksonville from all quarters.

I am, sir, with great respect,

Col. 1st Reg. S. C. V.

MEMPHIS, March 27, via Cairo 23.

Special to Chicago Tribune.—The news is rather important. The steamer Kenton had arrived at Memphis from New Orleans, and had on board a large number of negroes. It was known certainly that the expedition down Deer Creek, Sunflower, Steel's Bayou, &c., had arrived safely at its destination, and that a very large force under Gen. W. T. Sherman had landed above Haines' Bluff. No action had occurred. News of a cheering character is expected. It is thought, generally, that Vicksburg must soon succumb. There was a rumor in Memphis and Helena that the rebels were actively evacuating, but it is untrue. They intend to fight, or at least to hold their position as long as they can.

Nothing more is heard of the Yazoo Pass expedition. Informants tell different stories regarding the late movements there. One is that our forces had withdrawn entirely. Another, that, having been reinforced by Gen. Quimby's troops, they have returned and will renew the attack upon Greenwood. The latter is probable.

A raid into Austin, Ark., 40 miles above Helena a few days ago, found nothing to capture, but cut the levees which destroy the country, and then returned. The Mississippi is open from St. Paul to the Balize. We trust that we have friends enough yet at home to drive the contemptible sneaks and traitors, who are in your midst aiding the more honorable rebels in the south to destroy the most beneficent government on earth—I say drive them to a hiding place, so that when this war ends they will be ashamed to show their copperness to any man now in the army. the vessel, with her cargo, must have been worth a million of dollars. Richmond papers say that amongst the cargo was a battery of twelve Maitworth guns, of superior manufacture.

The War Department gives full authority for conducting the expedition in a French journal, published in New York, that a reply has been received from the Emperor to Seward's dispatch declining the proffered intervention.

Gov. Curtin returned from the army, to-night. He will return next week, to review the remainder of the Pennsylvania regiments. The storm prevented its continuance to-day. He represents the army as being in an excellent condition.

The President has issued his proclamation ordering the public sale of government lands in the territory of Washington and the states of Michigan and Kansas.

The latest information from our immediate front states the prevalence of the belief there that the rebels have a considerable infantry force, under Jackson, now in the vicinity of Front Royal, designing another raid in this direction.

MURKESBORO, March 29.
Col. Lowe telegraphs from Fort Donelson that a party under Lieut. Smith, 5th Iowa cavalry, has just brought from Wells' creek, fourteen prisoners, 18 horses and mules, and a lot of butter.

TOLSON, March 29.
The New York and Erie Railway Company's steamer New York and Oswego, the former from Dunkirk, the latter from Cleveland—arrived here to-day. They are the first boats this season.

FORTYSEVEN MONROE, March 28.
Last Sabbath, several clergymen of Norfolk gave notice that the churches would be open on Friday for service, in conformity with Jeff. Davis' proclamation. The churches were opened; but, as the worshippers began to congregate, they found a guard of Union soldiers at the church doors, and no services were allowed.

A Richmond paper says that Judge Marshall, of the rebel circuit court, has decided against every citizen of Maryland, and every foreigner who ever enlisted in the rebel army, no matter for how short a time, acquired a domicile, and was, therefore, liable to conscription, if between 18 and 45 years of age.

The hull and machinery of the Pennsylvania, burned three years ago on the James river, have been raised, and passed here last evening for Baltimore.

Col. Ludlow, commissioner for the exchange of prisoners, has concluded an agreement with the Confederate Commissioner Ould for the exchange of all U. S. officers held by the rebel government.

A steamer left Fortress Monroe to-day for City Point, taking for exchange 280 prisoners of war, including 16 officers and 32 citizen prisoners.

An officer who deserted from the rebel ranks arrived at Norfolk yesterday. He reports that the rebels are evacuating Richmond as fast as possible. The report is not fully credited.

Orders were issued by Gen. Vicksburg yesterday, closing the theatre in Norfolk for the present, and allowing no one on the streets after 7 o'clock at night. It is supposed that this restriction was caused by the attempt made there the night before, to fire the quartermaster's storehouse in the city of Norfolk. The incendiaries, three in number, made their escape, leaving their infernal machine behind.

The steamer Spaulding, from Hilton Head on Thursday, arrived here to-day. She reports the steamer's exposure.

To-Day's Report.

MORNING DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, March 30.
Tribune's special.—Some of Gen. Dix's officers report that they are satisfied from various circumstances that the rebels are preparing for the evacuation of Richmond, and have already moved large quantities of supplies. These officers believe that the show of force in front of Hooker, and the demonstrations by cavalry in front of Washington and on the Peninsula, are intended to mask the real object; that the bulk of Lee's army is moving away behind a curtain of forts to the west, with the intent to concentrate in front of Rosecrans in hopes of being able to drive him back and occupy and hold Kentucky. Their opinions are not shared by the principal officers of the army of the Potomac.

Gen. Hooker was here, to-day, in consultation with the president, secretary of war and Gen. Halleck. He returned to-night. No dispatch yet received at the state department from the French government in response to Secretary Seward's dispatch declining Napoleon's proposal to mediate.

NEW YORK, March 31.
An attack by cavalry, 100 strong, was made yesterday on our cavalry by a patrol, on the telegraph road between Danfries and Occoquan. Eight of our men were captured.

The expedition from Hooker's army, under Col. Fairchild, which was sent out recently to Northern Neck, returned to Belle Plain yesterday. They captured several prisoners and a quantity of pork, bacon, wheat and oats, and also a number of valuable horses and mules, and broke up the ferries at the Union wharf, and the Rappahannock. Col. Fairchild also burned a schooner engaged in smuggling contraband goods into Virginia.

All quiet on the Rappahannock. The enemy is evidently still in his old camps, though an impression prevails that Lee is preparing to fall back beyond the Pamunkey.

Special to World.—The work of consolidating defeated regiments has been commenced in the army of the Rappahannock.

NEW YORK, March 31.
Col. Clark, of Bank's staff, died of his injuries received near Port Hudson. A letter from aboard the Richmond says the report is untrue that she fired into the Mississippi.

A Hilton Head letter says that Rear Admiral, through a flag of truce, had the impudence to demand the surrender of the steamer S. Mercedita and Key Stone State, which he says were captured on the 31st of January.

The rebel steamer Autonomus, from Nassau, ran the blockade of Charleston.

News from Savannah up to 24th stated the people are suffering all kinds of privations, even the sick have only bacon and corn bread for nourishment. All who are able are at work on the fortifications.

A steamer from Jacksonville reported the arrival of the 6th Connecticut and 8th Maine regiments, to reinforce the negro troops. The rebel force had been driven from their original position 675 or six miles by the rebels. Killings were frequent. Three regiments of Georgians were known to be marching on the town, and heavy firing was heard as the steamers left.

LEXINGTON, March 30.
Special to Chicago Tribune.—The Union men of Kentucky are expected to contribute towards the defence of this state, and we do not think it becomes them to endeavor to have their negroes released from the labor necessary for the defence of this city.

News from Savannah up to 24th stated the people are suffering all kinds of privations, even the sick have only bacon and corn bread for nourishment. All who are able are at work on the fortifications.

CAIRO, March 30.
Special to Chicago Tribune.—General Thomas will visit all the posts in General Grant's command. The camp of rendezvous for contrabands now at this point, by order of Gen. Hurlbut, will be soon removed to Island No. 10, where every provision will be made for their comfort, and profitable employment furnished by the government in tilling deserted farms. Gen. Thomas, after reviewing the troops, made the rounds of the forts, barracks, quarters, negro quarters and hospitals, and inspected each carefully. The hospital was reported to be in excellent condition.

CAIRO, March 30.
No boats have arrived from below. Adjutant Gen. S. Thomas, to-day, in company with Gen. Buford and staff, witnessed a parade of the 35th Iowa, commanded by Col. Hill, and afterwards reviewed the troops. The exhibition was creditable to the 35th. After parade Gen. Thomas made a speech, in which he took occasion to reveal a portion of his business in the southwest. He asked the master of the recruiting colored men into the lines and reprimanded the manner in which some of them had been treated, instancing cases where they had been sent back into slavery. It was the duty, he said, of every officer to receive and treat kindly the slaves who should come within our lines, and any known to do otherwise he would himself, by authority in him vested, discharge them from the service. It was the policy of the government to deprive the rebel army of the first and best of its fighting men, and to organize the freed slaves into companies and regiments, and to put them to their proper use in quelling the rebellion.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.
No report at the time we go to press.

FEARFUL CALAMITY.—On Friday morning last, about two o'clock, the house of Mr. Geo. Tollard, living in the town of York, Dane county, near the Madison road, about five miles from this place, took fire and burned to the ground, and three persons who slept in the second story were burned to death, and another so badly burned that death may yet ensue from it. Mrs. Tollard, who slept in the first story, was the first to discover the fire, and gave the alarm, and was the only one in the house who escaped uninjured, and she only escaped by breaking out her bedroom window and escaping from the house. A son of Mr. Tollard escaped by jumping from a second story window. One woman with an infant child, who was in the house on a visit, escaped by following Mrs. Tollard through her bedroom and out through the window where Mrs. Tollard made her escape, and then, without anything on but her night dress, and although several times she walked barefooted over the frozen ground, half a mile, carrying her child to a neighbor's house. Of those who perished in the flames two were grown females related to the family, we believe, the other was an adopted son of Mr. Tollard. The house was a frame building, and stood on an eminence and in that heavy gale during the night the fire burned with fearful rapidity. Nothing was saved from the house. Of the origin of the fire nothing is known for certain. Mr. Tollard was in Columbus in the evening in attendance on a religious meeting, and in consequence of the heavy gale did not go home that night, and knew not what awaited him until he came in sight the next morning of what was once his home.

Since the above has been put in type we learn from the physician, Dr. Earle, that the two females who perished in the flames, were nieces to Mr. Tollard. The young woman who escaped with her child is Mr. Tollard's daughter, and who made her father's home. The adopted son of Mr. Tollard was a lad about nine years old. From appearances after the fire, as we learned from Mr. Tollard himself, was that those who perished had not left their beds. Mr. Tollard's son did not jump from the second story window, but broke through a window in the lower story and made his escape.

A niece of Mr. Tollard's who escaped from the flames with her life, was so badly burned that it is thought that she will lose one of her arms or at least the use of it.—Columbus Journal, 25th.

A JOKE OF THE LAWYERS.—Some of the lawyers in the assembly in this state have done quite as much talking this winter as has been agreeable to the rest of the members, and as a rebuke to that class, Mr. Hanson, of Winnebago, introduced the following:

A bill to prevent lawyers from swamping the state. Introduced by Mr. Hanson.—Read first and second times, and referred to Committee on Swamp and Overgrown Lands, consisting of Messrs. Barron and Bingham.

The people of the State of Wisconsin, represented in the Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Sec. 1. No person shall be eligible to the legislature of this state (whose business it is to practice as an attorney before any court in this state) unless such person shall before he is elected, execute to the treasurer of this state a bond, with one or more sureties, to be approved by the governor, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, conditional upon the promise that he will not talk during the session of the legislature for which he is elected, when he has nothing to say, and a majority of the members wish him to dry up.

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect as soon as passed.

An old maid in Cologne was recently buried, and her funeral was attended by an immense number of people. On inquiry as to the cause of this honor being shown to a person of whom no one had ever before heard; it was found that she had in her will directed that ten silver groschen should be given to every one who followed her to the grave. Such a fact was not long in getting wind among the poorer portion of the population.

Too Many Windows.—A late French medical writer upon the eyes and the influence of domestic architecture upon the organs of sight, speaks of the early defectiveness of the eyes of many Americans, which he thinks is due to their custom of constructing their dwellings with twice as many windows as are necessary. In Europe, with its comparatively dim atmosphere, they do not provide half as many windows as they do in America.

A Dr. Joseph Fisher, who recently died at Koenigsberg, Germany, left a thousand dollars to a favorite cat and canary bird, and another thousand to his dog. The interest of the whole is to be received by an old servant, charged with keeping the animals. As soon as they die the money lapses to the doctor's rightful heir.

There is a soldier on Governor's Island, now in close custody, who is known to have enlisted ten times, and to have received seven bounties.
